Can someone please explain to Trapillow that it's 2026 and terms like, "open the kimono" are, in fact, just as racist as they are sexist. It might be cool in his tired 1950's businessman kinda way but, considering we have a sister city relationship with Toshashumizu Japan, it's NOT a good look. Geisha culture isn't a clever reference.
Thank you for your attention to this matter.
